Tall Oaks Classical School does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, age, gender, or national, and ethnic origin in the administration of any of its policies or programs. It does reserve the right to select teachers on the basis of personal religious commitment and beliefs, personal moral conduct, academic performance, and willingness to cooperate with the Tall Oaks Classical School Board and Administration and to abide by its policies.

EDUCATIONAL PHILOSOPHY OF TALL OAKS CLASSICAL SCHOOL

1. True knowledge is impossible without recognition of God (Proverbs 1:7; Romans 1:18-23). God, the Creator of heaven and earth, cannot be rightly separated from history, literature, mathematics, science, or any other academic discipline. God's character is revealed not only in His Word, but also in every facet of the creation. The whole range and content of education must be centered on God and His Word, so that students develop a thoroughly biblical view of all of life. Therefore Tall Oaks Classical School integrates the truth of Scripture into every aspect of its program.
2. Man's chief purpose is to glorify God and enjoy Him forever (Psalm 73:25-28; 1 Corinthians 10:30). In His providence and goodness, God has bestowed on mankind the ability to explore, investigate, and discover truths about the universe in order to exercise dominion over it and to bring Him glory. The purpose of Christian education is to develop each individual's God-given capacities so that they may be used to God's glory. Therefore, diligence is required of all members of the staff. Furthermore, there is no place for mediocrity in any part of the school program or in any effort put forth by the student. The aim of Tall Oaks Classical School is to achieve excellence throughout the educational program.
3. Parents are to bring up their children in the nurture and admonition of the Lord (Deuteronomy 6:4-7; Ephesians 6:4). The primary responsibility for education rests not on the school or the church or the state, but on the parents to whom children are entrusted by God. Tall Oaks Classical is seen as an extension of the family unit, rather than as an extension of the state (as the government schools are), or even as an extension of the Church (as many other Christian schools may be). Parents have a covenantal responsibility to provide for their children a distinctively Christian education; nevertheless, it is proper that parents should associate with others in this task and enlist the aid of other Christians, especially those with the gift of teaching. Tall Oaks Classical School's purpose is to assist parents in providing such education for their children and to teach and discipline in a manner consistent with the Bible and a godly home environment.
4. God wants us to love Him with our mind, as well as with our heart, soul, and strength (Matthew 22:37). Therefore, Tall Oaks Classical School seeks to challenge children at all levels and teach them how to learn through the centuries-old classical method. The Christ-centered approach focuses on how to think biblically about every area of life. Above all, you can be confident that your child, at every stage of his development in school, will be loved with Christ's love in Tall Oaks Classical School.
